It's National Volunteer Week

What is your program doing to recognize the volunteers who give their time to visit and advocate with and for individuals that live in long-term care facilities? The week of April 15 to 21, National Volunteer Week, is a perfect time to reach out and say thanks for volunteering with your program and making a difference in the lives of the residents.

In 2016, 7,331 certified volunteer Ombudsman program representatives contributed 609,843 hours of service to Ombudsman programs across in the country (according to the NORS data). The Independent Sector determined the estimated value of a volunteer hour in 2016 was $24.14. For the Ombudsman program, that is over $14 million of assets due to volunteer service! Due to the dedicated service of these volunteers, resident access to the Ombudsman program is enhanced significantly and thousands of residents receive information about their rights and have assistance and support in resolving their concerns.

Thank your volunteers and recognize their work publicly by sending NORC brief messages of appreciation for their dedicated advocacy (e.g., examples of their advocacy, years of service, photos). We will post your message on our website and highlight the submissions on our home page.

Study Looks at Efficacy of CMS's National Partnership to Improve Dementia Care in Nursing Homes

Results of a study were published in JAMA Internal Medicine on the efficacy of the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services' National Partnership to Improve Dementia Care in Nursing Homes ("the partnership"). The study sought to investigate the association between the partnership and trends in prescribing antipsychotic and other psychotropic medication in older adults in long-term care. Researchers studied the prevalence of use of antipsychotics and mood stabilizers among 637,426 Medicare beneficiaries in long-term care. The study found that use of antipsychotic and psychotropic medications had already begun to decline before the start of the partnership. While use of antipsychotic and psychotropic medications continued to decline after the partnership was established, it did so at a slower rate. The study also found that the use of mood stabilizers (commonly used to treat bipolar disorder) increased after the start of the partnership. The researchers surmised that prescribers, rather than increasing the use of nonpharmacologic treatments, moved to prescribing mood stabilizers. Read the abstract and access the full study here.

Webinar on Strategies for Communicating Effectively About Aging Issues

Join the Reframing Aging Project for "Reframing Aging: Research-Based Messaging Strategies for Aging Advocates and Communicators" on Thursday, April 26th at 1:00pm ET. The webinar will review evidence-based strategies developed during the FrameWorks Institute's national multiyear project focused on how to communicate more effectively about aging-related issues. The webinar will include information on communication strategies to tell a more effective story about your work on aging issues and resources and tools to take the next steps to change communication within your organization. Register here.

2018 Resident's Voice Challenge

Participate in the 2018 Resident's Voice Challenge! Residents and long-term care consumers are encouraged to pick up their pens, turn on their cameras or use a computer to display their writing or artistic skills by submitting essays, poems, artwork, drawings, or videos related to the theme for Residents' Rights Month 2018 "Speak Up: Know Your Rights and How to Use Them.” Participants are encouraged to answer any of the following questions:

1. What do you want people to know about you and how you like to receive care?
2. Share an example of how you exercise your rights on an ongoing basis.
3. How do you work with staff, family and other residents to promote quality care and what can they do to help reach that goal?
4. Give advice to a new resident about exercising their rights.

Possible types of entry include video or audio recording, poems, artwork or drawings, photos or essays. Mail entries to 1001 Connecticut Ave. NW, Suite 625, Washington, DC 20036 or email to info@theconsumervoice.org. Submission... deadline is September 1st, so get started planning now!

Webinar on Supplemental Security Income Resources

Join the National Center on Law & Elder Rights for a free webinar, "Legal Basics: Supplemental Security Income (SSI) Resources" on Tuesday, May 8th at 2:00pm ET. SSI is a needs-based program, and to be eligible, individuals must not have countable resources beyond the limit. The webinar will cover SSI resource limits and rules, including: how “excess” resources can lead to benefit ineligibility, suspension, or termination from the SSI program; the resource transfer penalty and ways to avoid it; and other strategies for addressing common resource issues. Register here.

For additional information about the SSI Program, review Justice in Aging's new guide on In-Kind Support and Maintenance (ISM) in the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) Program.

CDC Training for Providers on Prescribing Opioids

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has an online training series for healthcare providers on prescribing opioids and treating pain without opioids. The online training reviews the CDC Guideline for Prescribing Opioids for Chronic Pain and helps providers apply the recommendations into clinical settings. The training provides information on the risks and benefits of prescription opioids, nonopioid treatment options, patient communication, and risk mitigation. Find more information here.
