Residents' Rights Month 2019: Stand for Quality

October is “Residents’ Rights Month,” an annual event designated by Consumer Voice to honor residents living in all long-term care facilities and those receiving care in their home or community. It is an opportunity to focus on and celebrate awareness of dignity, respect and the rights of every individual receiving long-term services and supports.

This year’s theme, “Stand for Quality” emphasizes the importance of quality in all aspects of residents’ experiences – quality care, quality of life, quality services, and quality choices – to name a few. Residents’ Rights Month is an opportunity for staff, families, ombudsmen, residents and other advocates to work together to stand for and promote quality.

Preliminary resources and promotional materials are available on our website now. Stay tuned for more information and materials about Residents' Rights Month planning, products and this year's Resident's Voice Challenge!

Increasing Nursing Home Reimbursements

Consumer Voice, along with Long Term Care Community Coalition; Center for Medicare Advocacy; California Advocates for Nursing Home Reform; and Justice in Aging, have released a joint statement addressing the nursing home industry's claim that low Medicaid reimbursement is the reason for substandard care experienced by residents. The industry's solution to poor care is to give more taxpayer dollars to nursing homes.

Consumer Voice and the other advocacy organizations argue that before giving nursing homes more public money, greater oversight of public payments for care and stronger enforcement of the nursing home standards of care are needed. Residents and taxpayers deserve to know where their money is going and that public funds are appropriately directed.

Help Residents Live Life to the Fullest

You know that the millions of individuals in nursing homes, assisted living facilities, and other care settings are too often out of sight and out of the minds of society instead of receiving the care and respect they deserve. Consumer Voice’s advocacy continues so that residents can live life to their fullest, as envisioned by the Nursing Home Reform Act. Consumer Voice fights for policies and standards that promote person-centered, individualized care; we work to educate and empower residents to direct their care and lives; and we work to equip ombudsmen and other advocates to support and empower residents to achieve their highest potential.

With your support Consumer Voice will continue to show up and STAND FOR QUALITY for your family member, your friend, your neighbor, and, should the time come, for YOU.
