

Bio

Cris Parque, MSW

Cris Parque is a social worker with her Masters from Boston University but views herself as an activist and advocate. She has more than 10 years of experience organizing around health care issues. Formerly Associate Director and Family Council Director at Friends and Relatives of the Institutionalized Aged in New York City, Ms. Parque is currently a consultant and providing care-giving for her mother in California.