

Bill Stark

My husband, Bill, was a resident at a skilled nursing facility for almost 5 years. We spent time together each day until lockdown.

He rapidly declined in health and failure to thrive from isolation which contributed to his death in November 2020.

These are pictures from just before lockdown, one of a window visit, and one taken from a video chat the night before he passed.