My dad went into the hospital on March 28, 2020 and the memory care unit of the nursing home April 15. Because of Dad's hearing and sight loss, virtual visits weren't effective.

I truly believe Dad died from isolation, loneliness, and failure to thrive. When he knew my mom was okay and was with family, I think he gave up. He never wanted to linger but he worried about mom. They were 55 days short of their 70th wedding anniversary.
